DIVORCE CASES ARE BEFORE JUDGE N. J. HARRIS

Judge N. J. Harris this morning granted a decree in the divorce case of Charles Eddy against Lena Eddy, after hearing ex-parte testimony.

Mr. Eddy testified that he married Mrs. Eddy in August, 1907, and that on February 22, 1911, they separated because of trouble they had respectively.

He said that Mrs. Eddy confessed the relationship. Mable Lepper has commenced divorce proceedings in the district court against Joseph Pepper on the grounds of cruelty, desertion and failure to provide.

The parties were married February 19, 1913, and the plaintiff alleges that during the next month the defendant deserted the home for a period of two weeks.

Further charging desertion, the plaintiff states that in June of the year 1913, the defendant again left the home and was gone a couple of weeks and that in August he went away and did not return. She says defendant has failed to provide the necessities of life and that he has mistreated her by using vile language and in calling her bad names.

The plaintiff wants a divorce and general relief.

The default of the defendant has been entered in the divorce case of Ida Thomas against Henry M. Thomas.

The following probate matters have been set for hearing in the district court, November 17:

Petition for letters of administration by Wilford Rynearson in the estate of Charles Peterson, deceased.

In the matter of the estate of Joshua B. Judkin, deceased, petition for letters of administration by Mary B. Judkin.

Petition for letters of administration to Jacob Peterson in the estate of Petrina Peterson, deceased.

Petition for letters of administration in the matter of the estate of Hans J. Peterson, deceased. Elias Peterson is the petitioner.

In the estate of Amanda M. Snow, petition of C. J. S. Abels, administrator for settlement of the estate.

Petition of James D. Hearn for letters testamentary in the matter of the estate of Margaret Manley, deceased.

Smiles were much in evidence in police court this morning when the case of J. Kuhn, charged with playing a game with cards for money was called. On the recommendation of Sergeant H. C. Peterson, the acting city attorney moved for a dismissal on the grounds that the witnesses were out of the state. The acting attorney was William Harcombe, who has defended Kuhn during the past few months.

Even Harcombe was embarrassed when he made the motion and he took pains to state that it was the arresting officer who recommended the dismissal of the charge. Judge Reader granted the motion.

Kuhn was arrested early yesterday morning with three others who forfeited their bail.

H. W. Percell was unable to recognize a police officer yesterday although the policeman had on his full regalia including a uniform and a star. As a result of his poor perception, he is to spend 15 days in jail unless he has the same number of dollars to pay the city as a fine.

Percell was charged with interfering with an officer in the performance of his duties. Guard Thomas Lever was the officer. He had responded to the Bamberger depot corner in response to a call and there placed Bud Read under arrest. It is alleged that Read and Alex Landfish were fighting. According to Lever's testimony, Percell tried to take the prisoner from him by force and would probably have succeeded had not Deputy Sheriff Lou Hobson interfered.

Percell pleaded not guilty to the charge this morning. He said that all he did was tell the prisoner that it would be wise to "beat it" before the patrol arrived.

Sanitary conditions in the Weber county court house will be discussed by the members of the Ladies' Literary club this afternoon at the meeting at the home of Mrs. Fred Clark.

Preceding the discussion by the members, Sanitary Inspector George Shorten will give a talk on "Public Sanitation." The inspector was invited to speak on that subject as the matter is of interest to the club and is a subject that is being studied by the ladies.

MYRON A. SMITH TO HAVE HEARING TOMORROW

An effort is being made today to get together evidence that will aid in completing the chain of evidence connecting Myron A. Smith with the Bristol and Eccles blackmailing charges. The preliminary hearing will be held before United States Commissioner S. T. Corn in the federal court room, beginning at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning and it is the desire of the assistant United States attorney to secure all the evidence possible against the man that he may be held to await the action of the federal grand jury. If, in the judgment of the commissioner, the grand jury should be called upon to make investigations.

Sheriff Thomas A. DeVine and Detective Bob Burk have gone to the R. B. Porter mine in Weber canyon to see whether Smith has told the truth respecting the giant powder he claims to have purchased at Five Points. Smith told the officers that he purchased the powder with money given him for that purpose by Mr. Porter to be used at the mine, and that he used one stick of the powder and that the balance of it is still at the mine.

Mrs. Smith visited her husband at the county jail last evening and conversed with him a short time. He again told her that a mistake had been made in arresting him, as he had nothing whatever to do with the blackmailing scheme.
